

Three circular patterns made of dense, overlapping lines. One is black and two are red. They are positioned in the upper left and center of the page.

TESS-India: Changing pedagogy in Indian classrooms

WHEN: 12:00 – 2:00, Thursday 10th December 2015

WHERE: The Hub, Medlar and Juniper Suites

Join us for presentations, discussions and lunch.

This event will showcase the pedagogic principles of TESS-India: Teacher Education through School-based Support in India, a large scale collaboration between The OU and the Government of India to develop Open Educational Resources (OER) for teachers, school leaders and teacher educators in seven Indian states.

The TESS-India team has produced over 150 OER in multiple languages and formats that enable teachers to try out and develop student-centred active classroom learning approaches. There is also a TESS-India MOOC for teacher educators.

The event will focus on:

1. Pedagogy: the power and value of OER for contextually appropriate teacher education at scale
2. Innovation: the role of technologies in TESS-India
3. Quality: the collaborative model for writing and localising OER
4. Sustainability: multiple platforms, partnerships and stakeholders