Dear Student,

Student Experience on a Module Survey

We hope that you have enjoyed your studies. Now you are coming to the end of your module, we're inviting you to take part in the enclosed Student Experience on a Module survey. This survey asks you to reflect on how your module has been presented, taught, supported and assessed.

What we do with the survey results

There are four main ways that we use your answers:

- For your allocated tutor, to help them understand how their teaching and feedback on your assessments have contributed to your learning.
- For the team who designed your module, to help them know how the design and presentation of the module have worked for you and what can be improved for future students.
- For the university overall, as a quality assurance check, to review how your module has performed when compared to others in the faculty, at the same level or across the university overall.
- For the university overall, as a source of quality enhancement information, so experts in research into teaching and learning or the design of modules can learn from what worked for you and what could be improved. This research may be used inside the university, or published for a wider academic community.

What we do in response to your answers

We use survey results to find the things that work well so we can do these more in future, and fix the things that don't work well. We will publish highlights of the changes we make and the impact this has. You can read more about this on our website at: www.open.ac.uk/student-surveys

What this means about how we use your data

We are careful to ensure that survey responses are always handled securely and confidentially, and can only be accessed by authorised, trained staff. We will combine answers to surveys with other data sources, (for example, your student profile and usage of OU tools and services) but never in a way that can uniquely identify you or that could affect your module grades or final outcome. Tutors and module teams do not see the personal identifiers of students who respond to the survey. However, if you choose to include your name in any of your open comments it will be possible to attribute your responses to you personally.

If you require an individual response to any issues you have about any aspect of your module, it is important to raise them with your Student Support Team, accessed by using the contact information available from your StudentHome Help Centre.

If you have a disability or an additional requirement that makes it difficult for you to complete the survey, please contact the Survey Office at Surveys@open.ac.uk or phone on +44 (0)1908 858853.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for taking part, and wish you every success in your future studies.

Yours sincerely,

Jonathan Wylie
